About Phelps Dunbar

Founded in 1553 in New Orleans, Phelps Dunbar is one of the oldest law firms in continuous practice in the South. Our firm is a progressive and diverse partnership, with a practice that is international in scope. We now have offices in New Orleans and Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Jackson, Tupelo, and Gulfport, Mississippi; Houston, Texas; Tampa, Florida; and London, England. Through our network of regional offices, clients have access to over 260 attorneys representing an extensive range of talents and experience. No matter how intricate a client's legal needs, the firm's professional depth and experience offer accessible, cost-effective, and reliable service. Attorneys in all practice areas work together to provide a broad base of legal services to institutions and individuals. We handle virtually every type of civil case in federal and state courts across the region. Our clients include public and private companies, financial institutions, insurance companies, health care systems, educational institutions, partnerships, estates, governmental agencies and individuals.

Commercial Litigation

The attorneys in the commercial litigation practice represent clients in all manner of business difficulties that concern corporations, both large and small, and individuals. With more than seventy-five commercial litigators, our practice is one of the largest in the region. We regularly handle cases ranging from large, complex national class actions to smaller landlord-tenant disputes. We appear before federal and state trial and appellate courts, as well as federal and state regulatory agencies and boards. Our experience has led us to represent defendants in multi-million dollar toxic tort class actions, major bankruptcies, construction defect claims concerning several of the region's more prominent structures, high profile breach of contract actions, and significant securities cases. At the same time, our firm readily assists clients in "lower profile," but equally significant matters.

As commercial litigators, we have a great depth of experience in every field of civil litigation. We have tried cases that focus on bankruptcy, banking, broker-dealer disputes, construction controversies, corporate problems, environmental issues, the hotel/hospitality industry, gaming, lender liability, oil and gas law, real estate, securities, tax, and toxic torts. Several lawyers in the group also specialize in criminal defense work, in particular "white collar" cases.

Antitrust and Trade Practice

The attorneys in our antitrust and trade practices area counsel and represent individuals, companies, and associations, both as plaintiffs and defendants, regarding all facets of the federal and the state antitrust laws (illegal combinations and agreements, market shares, and predatory and discriminatory pricing, for examples). Our attorneys also advise and represent clients regarding unfair business practices, unfair competition and other areas of the laws concerning trade regulation. We represent clients in both federal and state courts.

Antitrust Class Actions - Representative Matters

Rosenstein, et al. v. Eastern Mushroom Marketing Cooperative, Inc., et al. Represents a class of direct purchasers of agaricus mushrooms in a class action pending in Eastern District of Pennsylvania against a mushroom cooperative and the members of the cooperative. The plaintiffs allege that the defendants engaged in price fixing and the suppression of competition in violation of the antitrust laws of the United States.

King Drug Company of Florence, et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. Represents a class of direct purchasers of Provigil in a class action pending in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania against the manufacturer of the drug. The plaintiffs allege that Cephalon unlawfully maintained its monopoly power by suppressing generic competition in violation of the antitrust laws of the United States.

King Drug Company of Florence, et al. v. Sanofi-Aventis. Represents a class of direct purchasers of Plavix in a class action pending in the Southern District of Ohio against the manufacturer of the drug. The plaintiffs allege that Sanofi-Aventis unlawfully maintained its monopoly power by suppressing generic competition in violation of the antitrust laws of the United States.

- Witchitoches Parish Hospital Service District, et al. v. Tyco International Limited. Represents a class of direct purchasers of "sharps" containers in a class action pending in the United States District Court in Massachusetts against the manufacturers of the containers. The plaintiffs allege that Tyco International unlawfully maintained its monopoly power by employing anti-competitive tactics that violate the antitrust laws of the United States.

Louisiana Wholesale Drug Company, et al. v. Becton Dickinson. Represents a class of direct purchasers of hypodermic needles in a class action pending in the United States District Court in New Jersey against the manufacturers of the needles. The plaintiffs allege that Becton Dickinson unlawfully maintained its monopoly power by employing anti-competitive tactics that violate the antitrust laws of the United States.

Burlington Drug Company, et al. v. Astrazeneca Pharmaceuticals. Represents a class of direct purchasers of Nexium in a class action pending in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia against the manufacturer of the drug. The plaintiffs allege that Astrazeneca unlawfully maintained its monopoly power by suppressing generic competition in violation of the antitrust laws of the United States.

We also represent clients at all the stages of the appellate process. We have particular expertise in the United States Fifth and Eleventh Circuits and in the appellate courts in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Florida. Our partners in this practice include a former justice of the Supreme Court of Mississippi, two former clerks for justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, a former judge of the First Circuit Court of Appeal in Louisiana, and several former clerks for judges of the federal and the states' appellate and trial courts.

With over 150 years of litigation history, Phelps Dunbar has obtained a reputation for excellence that has earned acknowledgment from the bench and bar. We are adept at responding to emergency situations our clients may unexpectedly encounter, particularly those requiring immediate court intervention.

PHELPS DUNBAR LLP

The firm has as a resource a sophisticated technology department that assists our litigators in organizing and preparing an automated document retrieval system and in the digital presentations of exhibits in court.

We have trained our staff and support personnel to assist our clients through the many perils of difficult lawsuits. We are acutely aware of the expenses involved in litigation and we work with our clients to establish budgets and goals and to contain and/or reduce costs.

The group's performance in a wide-range of litigation demonstrates several compelling advantages to insurers considering the filing of complex cases involving potentially significant recoveries. These include:

- All partners in the group has acted as lead counsel for plaintiffs in significant jury and judge trials. We recognize that many clients will prefer the certainty of out of court settlements to presenting their claims at trial. We strongly believe, however, that our extensive trial experience is invaluable to securing favorable settlements. We successfully settle cases because we are not required to do so.
- The group enjoys the significant resources of a large, full service and defense oriented law firm, but exploits those resources from the plaintiff's perspective. We have the resources to respond effectively to even the most exhaustive defense.
- We are qualified to act across the Gulf South, from Texas to Florida.
- The group routinely accepts instructions on contingency and other alternative fee arrangements.
- Our attorneys have pioneered the use of innovative and cost-effective discovery and jury persuasion techniques.
- We have identified and extensively use experts and consultants drawn from a variety of disciplines who provide efficient service on a regional and national basis.
- The group enjoys significant diversity in background and experience, permitting us to effectively match trial team to the venue.

KAPLAN FOX & KILSHEIMER LLP

Over the past three decades, Kaplan Fox has been at the forefront of some of the most significant private antitrust class actions, securities class actions, derivative actions, and consumer class actions in the United States. Members of the firm have been appointed by federal and state courts as lead counsel, co-lead counsel or as a member of an executive committee in numerous actions. Over the years, we have recovered more than $2 billion for our clients. The following describes some of Kaplan Fox's major practice areas and its most significant recoveries.

ANTITRUST LITIGATION

For more than 30 years, the antitrust attorneys at Kaplan Fox have represented on a contingent fee basis businesses and individuals, on both a class and non-class basis, who have been injured as a result of price-fixing, customer allocation or other anti-competitive behavior, by sellers of a broad array of products and services.

Kaplan Fox is frequently at the forefront of significant private antitrust actions, and we have been appointed by courts as lead counsel or member of an executive committee for plaintiffs in some of the largest antitrust cases throughout the United States. Members of the firm have argued before Federal Courts of Appeals some of the most significant decisions in the antitrust field in recent years. Robert Kaplan argued the appeal in In re Flat Glass Antitrust Litigation, 385 F. 3d 350 (3d Cir. 2004), and Greg Arenson argued the appeal in In re High Fructose Corn Syrup Antitrust Litigation, 295 F. 3d 651 (7th Cir. 2002).
